Dear Mr. Biren Prasad:

Congratulations! Your submission titled "An Information Flowchart-based Methodology For Process Improvement" has been accepted for the EDVASC Quality Concepts Conference and Reception, October 4-5, 1993 at General Motors in Warren, MI.

You and your co-author will receive free registration on the day of your presentation. The complimentary copy of the proceedings will be given out per paper. You are EDS's designated exhibitor. Please make sure you forward all pertinent information to your associate.

A manuscript of your presentation will be included in the 1993 Proceedings. Typescripts should be submitted based on the information provided in this package. Please note that the first draft is due June 15, 1993.

A copy of the conference schedule will be mailed to you next week. This will have the day and time of your presentation. In the mean time, I have enclosed several daily bind registration forms. Please pass them on to interested associates. Thank you.

Respectfully,
Marika P. Stankovic

Dear Biren:

This is just a note to let you know how much I appreciate all of your extra effort and personal sacrifices that made this an exceptionally successful year. In the face of significant odds, you and the entire ACGW team around the world have improved customer satisfaction, gained a better understanding of our business, and have learned how to deal effectively with tough issues.

As you enjoy the fellowship of family and friends during this holiday season, I hope you will take a few moments by yourself to reflect on your own tremendous accomplishments. Look at your objectives from a year ago and count all the things you have done to meet or exceed them. Then count all of the other successes that were not even contemplated last year - you should be proud of yourself!!

I am proud of you. I am proud of our whole team. Together we have created an environment where each of us can apply the lessons we have learned to achieve our personal goals.

As a token of my appreciation, I am giving you and other members of the headquarters staff these guest passes which you can use for yourself or a friend at any of the EDS cafeterias. Enjoy lunch with your teammates.

Highest personal regards and warmest greetings!

Jim
